Dear Allen:

Now that the hearings of the Preparedness Subcommittee have been concluded I am anxious to express to you my appreciation of the cooperation and great help you gave to me. Each member of the Committee has told me of the high estimate they have of the work of your staff and yourself.

I hope that in the not too distant future we shall meet again and have an opportunity to discuss ways and means of "saving the nation."

With kindest regards.

STAT

Dear Mr.:

I sincerely appreciated your letter of February 6. I had the highest regard for the way you, as counsel, conducted the hearings for the Preparedness Subcommittee and feel that much that is constructive can and will come out of its work. It is always encouraging to hear that the members of the Committee feel that we are doing a reasonably competent job here in the Agency.

If you are still in Washington, possibly we can get together before you leave, but if not, I shall look forward to seeing you on one of my early trips to New York.

Sincerely,

Signed

Allen W. Dulles
 Director

The attached is merely a note of appreciation from Edwin Weisl. No answer is required and I would think under the circumstances that it would be better not to answer it.
